On October 7, 2022, representatives from the Duke Cancer Institute Teen and Young Adult Oncology Program (TYAO) joined the I'm Not Done Yet (INDY) Foundation in ringing the opening bell at Nasdaq in New York City.

The INDY Foundation, which was started by the parents of Bobby Menges, a Duke student who succumbed to brain cancer at age 19, is an important TYAO partner. It supports a peer-to-peer support program called “Bobby’s Coaches,” as well as helping young cancer patients pay for fertility preservation services.

Bobby was diagnosed with cancer for the third time in 2016, while he was a college freshman. After this news, he became dedicated to being a catalyst for change. He believed that a cancer diagnosis is hard enough on its own. Being a teen or young adult with cancer creates unique additional challenges during a stage when young people are figuring out who they are and going through big life changes such as finishing school, establishing their independence from their families, starting and building their careers, and forming new peer and romantic relationships.

Teens and young adults with cancer don’t have a natural home in oncology settings within the health care system. Teens may be hospitalized on units that treat infants and young children. Young adults may receive chemotherapy next to senior citizens. Teens and young adults often feel isolated and lack connection to other patients and survivors. They may also feel different from their peers who do not relate to what it means to be a young person with cancer and how their lives change.

Cancer Support Services

Duke Cancer Institute offers a variety of support services and resources for patients and their loved ones to assist with navigating life during and after cancer treatment. In honor of this year’s Survivorship Day, the Supportive Care and Survivorship Center created DukeCancerInstitute.org/SurvivorshipDay—a site featuring videos that highlight each of the services listed in this calendar. We encourage you to visit these sites to hear directly from our providers who strive to make the cancer experience better for everyone we serve.

Patient and Nurse Navigation
Navigators support patients, families, and caregivers through their cancer care. We make sure you have information to make decisions. We advocate for your needs. We identify barriers to care and connect you with available resources, as needed. We support you all the way from diagnosis to end of treatment. We have a team of navigators across our Duke Cancer Institute locations with expertise, including nursing backgrounds, to help you and your loved ones. If you are interested in learning more, contact your healthcare team and ask about Navigation services.

Clinical Social Work
Oncology and palliative care social workers help patients and their loved ones cope with the emotional and practical concerns that accompany the diagnosis and treatment of cancer. Individuals and family members are assessed to identify and address specific needs. We work together to establish interventions to help you alleviate stressors and financial burdens associated with a cancer diagnosis. We can connect you and your loved ones to resources such as disability, home health/ hospice, advance directives and end-of-life care. To learn more, visit DukeCancerInstitute.org/SurvivorshipDay/Navigating-Your-Care/Social-Work.

Chaplain Services & Education
Duke chaplains are on site seven days a week to offer spiritual support to you and your loved ones. When requested, they connect you with faith-specific representatives from the community. To learn more, contact Chaplain Services & Education at Duke Cancer Institute locations. In Raleigh, call 919.812.7972; for Duke Cancer Center in Durham, 919.684.3586; or Duke Cancer Center North Durham, 919.470.5363. DukeCancerInstitute.org/SurvivorshipDay/Emotional-Health-and-Well-Being/Therapy-and-Counseling-Services.

Therapy and Counseling
Our medical family therapists provide individual, couples, and family therapy. They help you and your loved ones cope with the impact of cancer. Psychiatry and psychology services are also available and offered as part of our treatment for emotional, psychological, and relational issues associated with a cancer diagnosis.
Sexual Health Services
Sexual health services provide education on the impact cancer treatments have on sexual health and intimacy, and therapy services that address concerns surrounding sexual function, sexual feelings, intimacy, and changes in sexual health. To learn more, visit DukeCancerInstitute.org/SupportiveCare/Sexual-Health-Intimacy.

Quit at Duke
Quit at Duke is a program designed to help people quit using tobacco products. Services are provided by tobacco treatment specialists and behavioral medicine clinicians. For more information or to schedule an appointment, please call 919.613.QUIT (7848). To learn more, visit DukeHealth.org/Quit.

Survivorship Services
Our cancer survivorship initiative focuses on the design and delivery of high-quality survivorship care. We partner with you and your loved ones to achieve healthy, fulfilling lives beyond cancer. Areas of care that are addressed include assessment and management of both physical and emotional needs that may result from the cancer experience, cancer screenings and monitoring, and counseling related to prevention and health promotion. We offer a number of clinical and supportive services. For more information, call 919.668.2122. To learn more, visit DukeHealth.org/Treatments/Cancer/Cancer-Survivorship-Services.

Teen and Young Adult Oncology Program
Duke Cancer Institute’s Teen and Young Adult Oncology Program provides teen and young adult patients (ages 15 to 29) and their loved ones with support and community during a cancer diagnosis, treatment, and survivorship. The program offers specialized medical care; individual, couples and family therapy; peer connection; and activity-based groups, both in the medical center and in the community. To learn more, visit DukeCancerInstitute.org/TYAO.

Palliative Care
Duke’s palliative care experts help with symptoms such as shortness of breath, pain, nausea, constipation, fatigue, anxiety, depression, trouble sleeping, and other experiences keeping you from feeling your best. Palliative care works closely with you and your doctors to ensure that every choice about your medical care has you at the center and is consistent with your values, while planning for the future. To schedule an appointment, call 919.668.6688, option #7. To learn more, visit DukeHealth.org/Treatments/Palliative-Care.

Self-Image Services
Our self-image consultants offer a variety of services and products to assist individuals with changes in body-image experienced during cancer treatment and survivorship. If you are interested in a self-image consultation, call 919.613.1906 or email cancersupport@duke.edu. To learn more, visit DukeCancerInstitute.org/Self-Image-Services.
Support Groups

Duke Cancer Patient Support Program’s virtual support groups are professionally facilitated. Attendees have an opportunity to meet people in a similar situation, share their experience and get support, tips, and ideas from those who understand what you’re going through. Registration is required. To learn more, please call 919.684.4497 or visit DukeCancerInstitute.org/Therapy-and-Support-Groups.
